

The Sky's the Limit.

Quantum Cloud Solutions

What was once only financially feasible for larger companies is now within YOUR reach. With Quantum Cloud Solutions, benefit from an enterprise-level system at a price that is budget-friendly for small and medium-sized companies.

Synchronize online and storefront sales, eliminating inventory nightmares and immediately accessing sales data and analytics. Real-time sales/ledger reconciliation means no more waiting around! Merchants continue to benefit from our direct connections to processors/banks for transactions and settlements while cloud capture is used for non-PCI data to deliver Cloud Solutions.

Transaction Solutions

Sound Payments' unique integration method makes it easier for ISVs and merchants to interface to Cloud Solutions.

This innovative way of connecting register and register systems to terminal devices greatly reduces time involved with development and quality assurance. This also removes the need for end-to-end certifications.

Our solutions allow for connection to any device that has Internet support, regardless of the type of connection.

Quantum Business Solutions - Aggregation & Analytics

Business Solutions provides aggregation and analytics tools that allow for better decision-making to reduce merchants' expenses and increase profits. Batch Aggregation allows for consolidation of multiple POS devices into a single daily report.

Synchronization of ledger-to-sales provides real-time reconciliation that significantly reduces time spent manually reviewing reports. Input sales data directly into account ledger systems such as Quick Books. Merchants also benefit from trend analysis, giving them a better view of customer spending patterns.

And our simple API (application programming interface) is designed to hide the complexity of transaction processing in the new age of EMV.

With sensitive data not reaching the register, the PCI scope is reduced. Only data allowed is shared from the terminal device to the register.

The combination of these solutions improves how merchants conduct business at a price that is financially feasible.

eComm is the only cost effective solution in the market for small to medium-size businesses. We recognize that the competitive environment in retail is tough.

eComm offers merchants an innovative online store that synchronizes sales data with storefront devices and allows for online gifts and loyalty while also tracking purchasing patterns and site usage.

Merchants can opt for a single service or bundle it with other services for best pricing.
